TARIFF BILL PASSED -- CONGRESS ADJOURNS STRIKERS TO RETURN ON SATURDAY

NO MORE FREE FOOD FOR STRIKERS

Manager Bull of Oahu plantation stated this noon that he had noticed no great influx of striking Japanese today. Men have been coming back gradually for the last few weeks, and he now has over four hundred Japanese at work on the plantation. Manager Ross at Aiea says it is reported about the plantation that the Japanese of that property will return to work on Saturday. Something like a hundred men are already in the camps at work.

Among the strikers at the Aiea headquarters a belligerent mood appeared to still prevail. Some claim that they will go to work, but not at Waipahu or Aiea.

One of the facts of the situation is that there are some men whom the managers of these plantations refuse to take back under any consideration. All the old Japanese pump men of Oahu plantation, for instance, have been replaced by Hawaiians and Portuguese, who will be retained.

When the strikers about Aiea were asked whether they would abide by the decision of the delegates who passed a resolution last night, they responded emphatically that they would not return to Aiea or Waipahu.

"We are not responsible nor are we bound by the resolution of the delegates who have been holding meetings in the Japanese school in Nuuanu street," said a number of the strikers. "We are just now holding meetings of our own. That is, the different gangs are assembling this forenoon to discuss the strike."

"We have not been officially notified of the resolution by the delegates. Irrespective of that resolution, we expect to discuss the strike by ourselves and will report back the result of our meetings."

"Are not some of those delegates who voted for and adopted the resolution your delegates?" asked the reporter.

"Of course some of them are, but we do not care to abide by their decision without the assurance of getting higher wages in case we return to the plantations."

"We still believe that we are not being treated right at the hands of the planters. We believe it is best that they should give us a raise in order that everything may be peaceful."

As the reporter was leaving the place he saw a large gang of Japanese strikers gathered together in the Honolulu Theater, apparently discussing the strike.

Owing to the difference of opinion over the resolution, the delegates were told to meet again this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Japanese school at Nuuanu street to await the reports from various gangs of strikers.

Judging from the remarks, it appears that there will be a general split between the delegates and the strikers.

No More Food. While the strikers are talking the commissary department has closed its doors. This indicates that the supplies are run out and that the waiters, stewards and general helpers will soon be packing their things to leave.

The famous tent under which the strikers have been enjoying their meals is wearing out. By Saturday it is expected that it will be taken down. The strikers' emblems which have been flying will also be hauled down, and the kaukau-place will be closed.

Pass Tariff STOPPED SAMPANS And Then FROM LANDING Adjourn

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5. — The tariff bill was passed by the Senate today by a vote of forty-seven to thirty-one. Immediately upon its passage the bill went to the President, who signed it.

During the forenoon a resolution reducing the tariff on leather was passed by both Houses. Congress then adjourned sine die.

DIRECTOR OF MINT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5. — A. Platt Andrews of Massachusetts has been named as director of the mint.

Arbused over the Mori stabbing affair in Honolulu on Tuesday last, the people on Maui watched with suspicion two Japanese sampans pulling into Kahului harbor yesterday morning, and when they were close enough to distinguish at least twenty men in one and about twelve or fifteen in the other, the citizens decided they were strikers and were not allowed to land.

One was a sampan launch, and towed the other. The people assembled on the dock as the two boats approached, and upon the attempt of the crew to tie up, they were told emphatically that they could not embark on Maui. After considerable argument, the sampans withdrew and started around the island.

It was evident that the Japanese were determined to land at some other point, so men on horseback quickly started the island keeping the boat sight. It was not long before it tried to put in near Pala plantation but again they were headed off.

So determined are the people on Maui to prevent any strike action or trouble that sentinels were selected and patrolled the shores at night on the lookout for the intruder. About dark what was supposed to be one of the sampans was seen heading for Lanai.

At the Claudine pulled out of Lahuli harbor last evening at 5 o'clock a small steamer was sighted just the east coast of Lanai, close in shore, but she soon disappeared before it. Identity became known. It was thought, however, she was an island boat. What she was doing that day, however, was the strange part of the incident.

STRANGE CASE OF CHINAMAN ARRESTED

Through the arrest of Ching Kim Hee, a member of the Chinese crew on the Texan yesterday afternoon by the Federal authorities, the inside workings of an intricate and gigantic plot may be revealed. Enough has been learned in connection with the case to warrant the officials in believing that a bureau has been established in China with a chain of connections in this and other countries, whereby a nefarious trade is carried on in the sale of citizenship papers.

Kim Hee failed to produce a certificate of citizenship to the customs officials when the Texan reached port, and the matter was reported to United States District Attorney Brockton, who had a warrant sworn out for the man. U. S. Marshal Hendry trailed Hee all over the city, and finally landed him. Immediately the Chinaman became much excited, and insisted that he had a certificate of citizenship issued to him in 1880.

"It would have been an impossibility," said Mr. Hendry, when interviewed, "for the man is only about 35 years old."

Back of it, however, is the real story. It has been the practice of the Federal officers in making an arrest of this kind to get hold of all the papers possible in the case, and as a result at times Chinamen have been found with certificates of citizenship not their own. In other words it was apparent they had purchased the papers through some person or agency in order to get into the United States.

It is generally known by the department that some secret method is in operation by which a Chinese desiring to come into the United States secures a certificate previously issued to another man. To do this the agency must have representatives in this country and on the mainland to secure these papers from Chinese who had long become citizens and about whom there was no question.

This system involves great cunning and care, and has been carried on so quietly that the Federal authorities have not as yet run the principals to earth, but are close on their trail, and when the final roundup is made it will cause considerable sensation, for Chinese officials are said to be connected with the scheme and men high up in the affairs of that country, as well as well known people in the United States.

So it remains in the case of Hee, either that he once had a certificate of citizenship and sold it through a representative of the bureau, or that he has never taken out citizenship papers. Frightened over his arrest, the man may have the papers and is secreting them from the officers.

At the time of Hee's arrest, Marshal Hendry could not locate either Commissioner, and he had Judge Dole sign the warrant as U. S. Commissioner. The prisoner was arraigned before the U. S. Court, and his bond fixed at $2500. Anin and Chu Gem signed the bond. The hearing is scheduled for this afternoon, and some interesting disclosures are predicted.

Passenger Ship Lost STRIKE ENDED BY RESOLUTION PASSED

CAPE TOWN, Aug. 5. — The British steamer Maori foundered today at Slang bay. The steamer had many passengers on board, and it is feared that there has been terrible loss of life. Six bodies have been washed ashore.

The steamer Waratah, with three hundred souls on board, bound from Natal, is missing.

STEAMER ON ROCKS.

ST. DAVIDS, Wales, Aug. 5. — The steamer Langton Grange is wrecked on the rocks at this place.

300,000 STRIKERS.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 5. — There are three hundred thousand strikers out of work in the various trades. The number is increasing.

Kapaa Land Lease

A very persistent rumor has taken shape as regards the much-guessed at Kapaa land deal. In official circles today it was whispered that the lease of the South Oahu lands in the Kapaa District will shortly be advertised by the Department of Public Lands, a rumor which was neither denied nor affirmed at headquarters.

From the outside, and does not seem to worry about his present condition. So far he has no attorney, and he will have to appear before Judge Andrade tomorrow.

A translation of the resolution passed at last night's meeting of the Higher Wage Association, which practically declares an end to the strike, is published below. The resolution advises the men to go back to work unconditionally, but it is the evident intention of the strike leaders to fortify the Association, and again some day when the time seems ripe, try again.

Section 3 says that the Higher Wage Association shall have a head office in Honolulu, with branch offices on all islands and plantations. The resolution reads:

An Extra of the Nippon Jiji. Published Aug. 4th, at 11 p. m. Resolutions passed at a Meeting of Delegates from all the islands.

The Conference of Delegates from all the islands that began its session on the 31st ult. was brought to a close at half-past eight this evening, this being the fifth day it has been sitting. The twelve resolutions now published below were passed at this evening's meeting. In reference to the one that expresses lack of confidence in Consul General Uyeno, it has been decided to telegraph to the Foreign Office in Tokyo. The meeting expressed its thanks to the Central Office of the Higher Wage Consumption Society and to the staff of the Nippon Jiji for the valuable services they have rendered in the movement, and a resolution was passed which expressed a desire that the activity hitherto shown would be displayed hereafter. The meeting expressed its thanks to all officers who have served the local Higher Wage Societies in the plantations where strikes have been going on to all bodies established to support these Societies, to all innkeepers and lodginghouse-keepers where the strikers have been stopping, and to Mr. Lightfoot, the Attorney of the Party, for the assiduity, zeal and sincerity which he has displayed.

THE RESOLUTIONS.
1. That in view of the present generation situation, suitable measures should be adopted for inducing strikers to return to work.
2. That this Meeting holds that a means of fulfilling the responsibilities already undertaken, big labour as associations including all workmen should be formed on every island of Hawaii.
3. That the head office of these associations shall be in Honolulu; but that branch offices shall be established on all islands and plantations.

SUGAR SOLD 4.08 NEW YORK EXCHANGE

Market Is Brisk And San Francisco Hits High Spots

Sugar sold on the New York Exchange this morning at 4.08. This is three points higher than the latest quotation of the Sugar Planters' Association and shows the tendency of the market at the center of things. It followed an advance yesterday afternoon in beet to 108.93 d. parity 4.28.
One of the best authorities on the New York market has recently written in a private letter that parity with the London market is expected during August, which means that if expectations are realized, it will be a record.

MORI'S ACT SPREADS QUICKLY

People On Other Islands Excited Over Attempt On Sheba's Life

News of Mori's attempted assassination on Tuesday of Sheba, spread to the other islands like wildfire. Wireless messages reached Maui before the arrival of the steamers and considerable excitement and interest followed.

NEGRO EXPLAINS JIJ'S THREATS

Extermination Demands Were Printed In The Funny Column

Yesterday Negoro was an artist and today he was a humorist. His veracity is brought out better in cross-examination than in direct, which was shown when Kinney followed Lightfoot about 11 o'clock in the examination of the conspiracy trial.

A MESSAGE TO SHEBA

Two hundred Japanese plantation workers on Maui through A. Negashi, yesterday asked a representative of the Bulletin, that through its columns, their expression of sympathy might be conveyed to Editor Sheba of the Shingo, and to his family; that they endorse his courageous editorial in behalf of justice and right, and believe he has done a great work for his countrymen. They wish at this time to encourage him by their support and assure him they have no sympathy for the Higher Wage Association methods of securing higher wages. The Bulletin is glad at this time to carry a message breathing with a native love and manhood that cannot help touch the man who has said he was willing to give up his life for a principle he held dearer than existence.

MORI CHARGED THIS MORNING

Assault With Dangerous Weapon Is Charge Laid

Mori, the man who attempted to kill Editor Sheba, and who has been held at the police station for investigation since Tuesday, was this morning charged under Section 2911 with assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to commit certain felonies. The penalty attached to the crime is a fine of $1,000, and imprisonment at hard labor for not more than ten years.

Bail in Mori's case has been set at $5,000, but up to noon there had been no attempt made by anyone to supply the bonds. The would-be slayer is confined in a special cell near the Sheriff's office and has nothing to say for himself. He is being supplied with food.
